

National Association of Probation Executives
Supporting Executives in Community Supervision Agencies

Monthly Newsletter

October 2025

What Makes Violence Feel “Honorable” To Some But Not Others?

As the number of individuals with violent offenses placed on probation in the United States continues to rise, understanding the cultural and psychological roots of aggression has never been more urgent. While policy debates often focus on supervision and sentencing, research like Dr. Andrew Krajewski’s “When Is Violence Honorable? Honor Attitudes and Aggression” invites us to look into the belief systems that make violence seem acceptable or even justified in certain contexts.

Krajewski and his colleagues explore how “honor” values shape when and against whom individuals choose to use aggression, revealing that these attitudes can strongly influence violent behavior outside intimate relationships. As more individuals with violent offenses enter community supervision, insights like these can help inform more effective interventions that address not only behavior but also the underlying values that sustain it. Their findings reveal that honor-driven aggression isn’t random but patterned, shedding new light on the complex ties between pride, respect, and violence.

Read the full article online at Science Direct

<https://www.sciencedirect.com/science/article/abs/pii/S0047235225000327>

Real Leadership Cohort

NAPE is proud to partner with NCTI to bring you the Real Leadership Cohort. This exclusive program will combine proven Real Colors personality insights with practical leadership skills tailored to the community supervision field.

What participants can expect from the program:

- Enhanced communication skills for their team and community partners
- Understanding of their unique leadership strengths
- Real-world scenarios specific to community supervision
- A personal leadership plan for their role
- Networking with peers committed to excellence
- 8 APPA Contact Hours

Real Leadership Cohort Sessions Schedule

Four 3-hour virtual sessions via Zoom

Thursday, January 15th | 10:00am – 1:00pm Pacific

Thursday, January 22nd | 10:00am – 1:00pm Pacific

Thursday, January 29th | 10:00am – 1:00pm Pacific

Thursday, February 5th | 10:00am – 1:00pm Pacific

Scan to send an email request for pricing and registration details or email info@ncti.org

The Corporate Corner

casebase

Join Averhealth and NAPE for an exclusive webinar introducing Vector, a predictive analytics tool that forecasts drug test outcomes before they happen.

Built from 500,000+ data points, Vector helps agencies predict risk, intervene early, and improve outcomes — all within Aversys Mobile.

Date: November 13, 2025

Time: 2:00 PM ET/11:00 AM PT

Register Online: https://us06web.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_SVZon6byQ424EyQVHQn07g

Discover how this breakthrough technology is shaping the future of supervision and learn how to join the Vector Pilot Program.

From Reactive to Predictive:

How Vector by averAI is Transforming Drug Testing and Supervision

November 13, 2025

2:00 PM ET

Join the NAPE Network

We invite members to share information about NAPE with other community supervision executives to help expand our network and strengthen our opportunities, data, and expertise. Affordable annual NAPE membership options are available and can be purchased/renewed at napehome.org. Visit www.napehome.org/join to join NAPE online!

- Individual (recurring discount available)
- Retired
- Organizational
- Corporate

Contact NAPE

Vanessa Farmer, Secretariat
Mack Jenkins, Executive Director
NAPE – Correctional Management Institute
George J. Beto Criminal Justice Center
Sam Houston State University
Huntsville, Texas 77341 – 2296
vfarmer@shsu.edu
(936) 294-3757

NAPE is dedicated to enhancing the professionalism and effectiveness in the field of community corrections by creating a national network for executives, bringing about positive change in the field, and making available a pool of experts in community corrections management, program development, training, and research.

Learn more: napehome.org

Mailing address:

National Association of Probation Executives
Sam Houston State University
Huntsville, TX, 77340, US